Mrs. George P. Knight

Willows, California

Dear Mrs. Knight:

My delay in reporting to you has been much greater than I had anticipated. Since Mr. King's reports were so very full, almost the only source not fully tapped is the series of Court Order Books which are unindexed.

The research has concentrated on the first of the problems you mentioned, an identification of WILLIAM TAYLOR who died testate in 1763. Mr. King surveyed the deeds of record in ESSEX CO. in the name of WILLIAM TAYLOR, as well as wills and other estate records and also sent you the WILLIAM TAYLOR entries from the RAPPA. CO., records.

I have some additional items which throw light upon some of the WILLIAM TAYLOR connections but since they are few in number I think it best to include them in this letter rather than make a separate report of them.

From RAPPA. CO. RECORDS we know that one William Taylor was the son of Peter Taylor:

(2 May 1687?) John Shearlock records for MARY Taylor the daughter of Peter Taylor one two yeare old heifer --- given by WILLIAM HARWOOD ---
Wm. (WM) HARWOOD

Likewise I record for Mary Taylor one white mare branded on the neare buttock with George BOYCE marke --- only the first foale to THO. TAYLOR his (sic) Brother, also a brown heifer -- for Wm. Taylor -- also a cow yearling for Tho. Taylor --- Likewise the first Foale my wife's mare brings for Wm. Tayler the son of Peter

JOHN SURLOCK, JR.
(RAPPA. CO. VA. DEEDS 1682-88, pp.407-8 Transcript)

While this William was apparently a young boy about the time your William was young, the indications are they are not the same. (Peter Taylor was a resident of that portion of Rappa. which became Richmond Co. rather than that which became ESSEX.)

2 OCTOBER 1684. Ordered that after JNO. FENNER DOE yield up the Plantation and Court House on the north side of the River where he now liveth that Peter be admitted to live there and to have use of the said house and Pasture fence in tenantable Repairs, and that he keep firing sufficient during the sessions of every COURT. (IBID - ORDER BOOK 1686-92)

There was also an older William Taylor in Rappahannock Co. since in the year your William was just a year old, he and Ann Taylor on April 6, 1683 witnessed a deed from Fauntleroy to Smith. (IBID - ORDER BOOK 1680-82, p.52 Transcript)

There is also in the early Essex records an order dated 10 March, 1699 that William Tayler, servant boy to Mr. Robert BROOKE, was adjudged twelve years of age and ordered to serve according to law (that is until he reached the age of twenty-four). (ESSEX CO. VA. Order Book 1695-99, p.144, transcript)

I began reading the Essex Order Books with that for 1703-8 and continued through 1708-14 in the hope that some record during these early years would reveal something about William Taylor's early connections. The first reference I found was:

11 June 1706. William Taylor making oath that he attended this Court five days as an Evidence on behalfe of ANDREW BARRON plt. agt. Daniel Magrit - Ordered that -- Barron pay him for the same according to law (40 pounds of tobacco per day with costs al. exo. (ESSEX CO. VA. - ORDER BOOK 1703-08, p.252)

The next reference is equally unenlightening:

10 June 1709. In the action of detinue --- James Jones agt. Job Virgitt --- Jury -- Wm. Taylor are impaneled -- (IBID. ORDER BOOK 1708-14, p.170)

You already have John Garnett's deed to William Taylor which was recorded at March 1712 Court. But the next month there was an item which I think may well relate to your William:

10 April 1712. Certificate is granted William Tayler for fifty acres of land due for his importation into this Colony, the said William Taylor making proof of his importation upon his oath and that there never was any land taken up for his importation aforesaid to his knowledge and the said William Tayler in Court assigns this his certificate to Augustine Smith. (IBID, p.428)

Since Peter's son William was in all likelihood born in the Colony he would not have land due for his importation. This is rather late for the William of this entry to be the man who was a witness in 1683. And the right to land for the importation of the servant boy would have belonged to Robert Brooke or someone else. The entry may, however, relate to the William Taylor who married MRS. MARY (COOK) Wood HALBERT.

The next item related to jury service:

15 January 1713 (1714). In the suit brot. by BUCKENHAM BROWN agt. Magdalen Collard ---- Jury --- Wm. TAYLOR --- was impaneled --- (IBID, p.556).

The remaining ones relate to his association with the estate of John Garnett, Jr.:

11 MARCH 1713 (1714). T ho. Garnett and Wm. Taylor taking the oath by Law Enjoyment Certificate is granted them for obtaining Letters of Administration with the will annexed of John Garnett deced. the Exrs. in the will being deceased, giving bond with security according to Law --- (IBID, p.571)

10 June 1714. Tho. Garnett and Wm. Taylor admrs. with the will annexed of Jno. Garnett deced. presented an Inventory of the Estate of the sd. deced, which is ordered to be recorded. (IBID, p.584)

10 July 1714. The action of Case brot. by Tho. Garnett and Wm. Taylor admrs. of John Garnett deced. agt. Wm. Smither, Junior is Dismd.--- no decl. being filed. (IBID, p.597)

As Mr. King reported to you, it is not possible to determine with certainty the quantity of land which your William Taylor owned when he died. The deed of 50 acres from John Garnett in 1713 certainly belongs to him as does the 75 acres from James Foster in 1718 and the 100 acres from Robert Foster in 1733. The 100 acres from Silvaus Allen in 1746 also adjoined land of John Garnett and must belong to your William.

The 1722 Deed from Charles Farrell, to William Taylor, however, belongs to the William Taylor who married Mrs. Halbert. I have previously done some work on the Halbert Family and find in my notes that on 19 Oct. 1747 Joel Halbert and Frances his wife of Caroline Co. sold to Wm. Halbert of Essex Co. one moiety of a tract of 78½ acres purchased by William Taylor of Charles Farrell, being 39½ acres (Essex Co. Deed Book 24, pp.82-84). Thomas Heely and Elizabeth his wife had previously, on 17 July 1738, sold their interest to Joel and Wm. Halbert jointly. (Ibid - Deed Book 21, pp.392-93)

It is very puzzling to me why no record of this land can be found after John Taylor inherited it from his father. With at least 325 acres involved there should be something further about it. This is too much to be absorbed in adjoining tracts. It was probably held by John until his death (intestate) and passed next by deed by his widow under another name or by daughters. My investigation at this point it still far from complete.

The appearance of William Taylor as administrator with Thomas Garnett of John Garnett has led me to wonder whether Taylor's Elizabeth could not be a sister of Thomas, John and Anthony Garnett. As you know John Garnett, Sr. had 600 acres and each son received 150 acres leaving 150 acres unaccounted for. From a study of the deeds of the Garnett land I had hoped to be able to identify the owner of the remaining 150 acres. While the original deed to John Garnett shows the metes and bounds, most of the subsequent deeds among members of the family are so indeterminate as to boundaries (Merely conveying "all interest" which descended to them or naming landmarks without giving distance and compass directions) that all I could do was pin down William Taylor's 50 acre portion bought from John Garnett, Jr. I could never be sure that the other deeds which mention William Taylor as an adj. property owner were not referring to this 50 acres rather than the unidentified 150 acres. Perhaps a further study will reveal something more on this but I have hesitated to spend to much time since this is only a theory.

In these Orders I read I found three entries relating to Anthony Garnett who died unmarried. These are interesting and I have not noticed them among the items in your material:

10 February 1706/7. On the petition of John Garnett adm. is granted him on his deced brother Anthony Garnett's estate --- (Essex Co. Va. Order Book 1703-08, p.320)

10 March 1706/7. John Garnett Adm. of estate of Anthony Garnett deced this day failing to return an inventory and he swear to it next Court. (Ibid, p.329)

10 May 1707. John Garnett adm. of the estate of Anthony Garnett deced coming to the Bar and alledging that hath not nor cannot get into his hands or possession any of the said deced's estate. It is therefore ordered by the Court on his motion that the order for appraisement thereof be discontinued. (Ibid, 2.357)

Mr. King concluded that the William Taylor, Jr., whose estate was administered by William Taylor in 1742 was another son of your William. The Court order establishes this:

20 July,1742. James Taylor brother and heir of William Taylor, Jr., deced. by a note under his hand Certifying that he would not administer on the estate of the said Decedent, and then on the motion of William TAYLOR --- certificate is granted him for obtaining Letters of Administration --- (Essex Co.,Va., Order Book 1742-43, pp.19-20)

There is still some time due you from the retainer fee. I shall report to you further when that time has been spent and I hope that there will be more to show for the search. It is unfortunate that almost the only records left to search are the unindexed orders and that these take a great deal of time to go through. There might well be information of importance in the orders after 1714, but whether the cost of searching them is worth the uncertainty of results, I cannot say.

With every good wish, I am

Sincerely yours,

Fred Dorman

In a writing filed in the Wm. Stewart versus Garnett suit - dated Nov. 16, 1816, it is stated that the subpoena should be served on the executors of James Garnett in Kentucky. There is also a paper filed in this suit by George Terrill, Sheriff of Caroline County, in which he states, that Thomas Garnett, the son and one of the executors named, is dead, and no one had administered on his estate.

It is assumed that Thomas Garnett married first Susannah (Andress), daughter of Thomas Andrews or Andress and wife Joice (Garnett) daughter of Thomas Garnett (will 1744) and wife Elizabeth.

It appears that Thomas Garnett sold his inheritance of 500 acres in Orange County.

1761 Franky Gatewood, widow of Richard Gatewood, married Robert Cole.

Joyce Andrews does not mention her daughter "Susannah" in the deeds of negroes in 1789; therefore she is believed dead. (Note: Avis was not mentioned, did she marry Richard Gatewood?)

There are contradictions in this line, which I hope through research, may be straightened out.

William and Lucy Garnett made their permanent home at Garnettsville, Kentucky. It is only a few miles from Louisville. Their tombstone markers were in the old cemetery before World War II. I have been told that Fort Knox expansion had taken in the little community, which borders Meade and Hardin Counties.

It is said that Mr. Grahampton and Mr. William Garnett stepped off equal steps from their homes and there built a school house to serve both families.

History of Kentucky, Vol. 2 by Richard H. Collins, pg. 599.

Grahampton at the falls of Otter Creek, 5 miles from the Ohio. Garnettsville, on the same creek, 3 miles from the Ohio.

William Garnett became a man owning considerable property. "The large plantation home burned destroying its treasures," wrote one elderly relative. She knew nothing of William Garnett's death. It is possible the old gentleman perished in his own residence.

Lucy Garnett in 1860 is living with her son-in-law Thomas Woodridge.

James Richard Garnett, son of William and Lucy Garnett, was born in 1802, probably in Woodford Co., Kentucky. As a boy he made frequent trips on a barge to New Orleans, La., with produce from the plantation. It was on one of these trips, that he purchased a "great overcoat", such a coat worn for the first time in Ky.

James Garnett moved to Ralls County, Missouri, where he married Mrs. Eliza (Parker) Cleaver, daughter of Peter and Mary (Dimmit) Parker of Hampshire Co., W. Va.

CHAPTER II

FAMILY BACKGROUND

From earliest times the Garnetts have been of the upper middle class gentry and have generally intermarried with families of similar status. They have usually been respectable, socially conscious citizens, frequently showing above average interest in public affairs. In both England and America over the generations men and women with the Garnett name have played an honorable part in the life of their communities, state, and nation. The family history shows frequent outcrops of an independent, pioneering spirit. The family story is the story of America in miniature.

The first of the name from whom the Virginia Garnett families can documentarily trace their descent was a John Garnett (1642-1703), who in 1683 received title to a land grant of 250 acres on the banks of Garden Creek adjacent to the Chesapeake Bay in Gloucester County (Gloucester County Grant Book; no. 7, p. 259). Although the English novelist, David Garnett, said this John probably came from Ottley, Yorkshire, England, the John Garnett of whom he speaks may well have been a son or grandson of earlier Virginia settlers.

The first of the name reported in Virginia was a Thomas Garnett who came on the ship "Swan" in 1610, his wife and daughter coming a few years later on the ship "Neptune". A Thomas Garnett received a land grant of 250 acres on Possaquon Creek, York County, in 1640, adjoining land granted to a John Garnett in 1635. This Thomas was listed in a 1624 Muster Roll.

Records of several ships during the 1650's listed at least a dozen passengers with the Garnett name, for the bringing of whom the captains received land grants of 50 acres each. Since mortality in the early days of the colony was extremely high, it is possible that all of these earlier settlers perished. The early records of York and other eastern counties have been burned, so it is now impossible to connect these earlier settlers with the John Garnett of Gloucester.

The records of one ship showed a William Garnett as having visited Williamsburg in 1624. Miss Myrtle Cooper of the William and Mary College faculty, and of Kentucky Garnett ancestry, is authority for the story that in 1624 a Garnett spent four days as the first guest of the newly erected Williamsburg stocks for refusal to inform on his ship's captain.

If we go back beyond the early Virginia settlers we find that a knight, Vivian De Gurnet, came to England with William the Conqueror in 1066. The Garnett, or DeGurnet, name did not appear in England prior to this time. Vivian DeGurnet was put in charge of the Royal Forest in Lancashire, an office which became hereditary in the family. The title lapsed when the Royal Forest was abolished in 1287; but by the 15th Century members of the family, whose name had been changed to Garnett, had become land owners and spread into adjoining shires, settling around Ottley, Yorkshire, about fifty miles from Liverpool.

John Garnett, of Gloucester in 1690, for 9,000 pounds of tobacco, acquired 600 acres on the frontier along Occapacia Creek on the south bank of the Rappahannock River in Essex County about 10 miles west of Tappahannock.[1]

1. This sale is referred to in several Va. histories as an example of outright purchase rather than under the "quit rent" system. He apparently retained his original holdings, which were in descendants hands until the 1940's.

THE FAMILY AS A WHOLE

Before concentrating on James Muscoe and his descendants, something about the Garnett family as a whole, the descendants of John of Gloucester, will be of interest. Especially the Essex Group which during the late seventeen hundreds and the succeeding generation attained the most prominence and are of special interest.

Since families of early times were large, the Garnetts soon spread from the Essex and Culpeper centers to nearby counties, especially to Westmoreland, Spotsylvania, King and Queen, King William, Caroline, Madison, Albemarle and Buckingham. Some, driven by the pioneering spirit, insatiable land hunger, or impelled by land grants for service in the Revolutionary War, migrated, as these states were opened up, to Kentucky, Missouri, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas, and California.

Although half a dozen places, cleared by early Virginia Garnetts from the primeval forests, remained in the hands of family representatives until after 1900, few continue in family possession in counties where Garnetts were once numerous. Only one of the name, Muscoe Russell Hunter Garnett, II, is still found in Essex, and he retired to Elmwood after a business career in New York City. The only two descendants of Anthony remaining in Culpeper County are Mrs. Elsie Garnett Tinsley and her sister, Mrs. Leigh Garnett Taliaferro, daughters of Franklin Garnett.

Of the early Garnetts, James (1692-1760), son of John II, and cousin (or brother) of the Anthony who went to Culpeper, became the largest land owner. He acquired about 5000 acres in Essex County adjacent to the first Garnett holdings. Thus was laid the foundation for the cultural rise and political prominence of that branch of the family. Rising standards were accompanied by increasing slave ownership. It was said, for instance, that at "Elmwood" forty-five slaves were used for the house and grounds alone.

James' second wife was Elizabeth, daughter of Salvador Muscoe, a neighbor. Thus was introduced the name Muscoe, which has persisted for many generations in several branches of the family. James's son, Muscoe, married Grace Fenton Mercer, thus starting the name Mercer, which is also widespread.

As wealth increased, Garnett families built large houses - most of which have been destroyed by fire. "Greenfield", "Mt. Pleasant", "Elmwood", "Prospect Hill", "Stone Chimney", "Champlain", "Rose Hill", and "Font Hill" were samples of spacious Garnett colonial homes, built mostly on the Rappahannock River. Of these homes "Elmwood", located twelve miles west of Tappahannock, built in 1770 by Muscoe Garnett and given as a wedding present to his son, James Mercer, is the most noted and has had the most unique history. It is one hundred feet long and thirty feet wide. Included in the more than a dozen rooms were a spacious ballroom and library, once the scene of gracious living and a gay social life.

James Mercer Garnett (1770-1843), son of Muscoe I (1736-1803), and owner of "Elmwood", made notable contributions in four fields: politics, agriculture, education, and religion. He was a member of Congress from 1805 to 1809. The writer once saw a card at the Eugenics Record Office of Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, describing him as the "walking encyclopedia of Congress". He resigned in his second term to work for the improvement of agriculture. He was among the organizers and the first president of the American Agricultural Society, president of the Fredericksburg Agricultural Society, and for twenty years the secretary of the Virginia Agricultural Society. In the latter position he wrote extensively on agricultural conditions of the day. Under the name, "Cornplanter", he had an extensive debate with George Carey, the leading American economist of his time, on the tariff. He was also a member of the jury which tried Aaron Burr for treason and was a member of the Virginia Constitutional Convention of 1829. He devoted much time to writing and lecturing on educational and religious themes, material which is still found in many libraries. For many years he conducted a Sunday School at his home, also one for negro children.

In his later years James Mercer Garnett's fortune declined, so his wife opened a school for girls. One of her husband's duties was to give lectures in English and other subjects. These lectures were published under the title, "Female Education", and went through four editions.

The eldest of his four sons, James Mercer, Jr. (1794-1824), like his father, married a first cousin, Maria Hunter. Their only child, Muscoe Russell Hunter Garnett, was born in 1821 and was only three years of age at the time of his father's death. His education was received at home until he entered the University of Virginia at age seventeen. After one year there he resolved to return to "Elmwood" for a self organization course of reading in History, Philosophy, several languages, Political Economy and Belles Lettres.

After pursuing this course for two years he returned to the University and procured his law degree in one year. In 1860 he married Mary Picton Stevens of Castle Point, New Jersey. After Virginia's secession in 1861 he served in the Confederate House of Representatives until his death from typhoid fever in early 1864 at the age of forty-two years.

In 1864, after her husband's death, Mrs. Garnett's father, Edward Stevens (founder of Stevens Institute) had sufficient influence with President Lincoln to have a gun boat sent up the Rappahannock River to take the widow and her two small children north. She refused to leave until the gun boat captain threatened to use force. The mansion with all of its furniture remaining in place was left vacant except for a caretaker until 1890. It was then occupied briefly and again left until 1946 when it was restored by the present owner, Muscoe Russell Hunter Garnett II. During the second vacant period much of the furniture and silver were stolen, even though they were said to have been guarded by a ghost. The architect of the Williamsburg Restoration directed the Elmwood renovation.

Elmwood was the locale for John Esten Cook's novel, "Surry of Eagles Nest", a son of the family, Theodore Garnett, being the chief character in the book.

In 1939 Mr. Harry Clemons, then librarian of the University of Virginia, arranged for the twelve hundred volume library of James Mercer Garnett of Elmwood and his grandsons to be donated to the University of Virginia Library as an example of a library of a scholarly pre-Civil War gentleman, and assigned it a special room. Muscoe Russell Hunter Garnett, the chief assembler of this collection read Greek, Latin, French, Italian and other languages. He was also deeply interested in the philosophy of government. His books reflect this interest. (See "Home Library of the Garnetts of Elmwood", Harry Clemons.)

While James Mercer Garnett of Elmwood was the most distinguished of the name, there were many others who gained prominence. His brother, Robert Selden Garnett, was also a Congressman (1817-1827). Likewise, their nephew, R. M. T. Hunter, whose mother and grandmother were Garnetts was successively the same claim, but they just may not have the interest or the proof.

BETTER RED NOW THAN LATER

Where do I begin. I had the newsletter typed and some copies run off then I got a letter and phone call from Richard Foster of Alexandria, Virginia. From discussions with Ed Dittmer (above) he is now convinced that some of the Foster pedigree that we had accepted as true, is not - which makes some of the above information, maybe interesting but likewise not true. Where do I begin. It seems that we have accepted as fact that we are descended from Anthony Foster (wife, Martha Taliaferro), son of Robert Foster and grandson of Richard Foster, the immigrant. From the meticulous work done by Ed Dittmer for his wife, who is descended from the Fosters (of Wilkes Co.) we now know that we are not descended from Anthony Foster, but his brother, John, who married Isabel. So in the above pedigree of James and Gabby Foster disregard all generations above Thomas who married Ann Garnett. We are indeed grateful for the work of Ed and for his willingness to share his information with us. It will certainly mean rewriting some of the earlier pages of our Foster Family book, however better our face be a little red not than after we are in print. Following is a list of the children of Robert and ~~Sarah Biggs~~ from whom we descended.

— 2. FOSTER, Robert. born ca 1651; died 1716 in Essex Co. VA; married (~~1) Sarah Biggs, daughter of Richard and Elizabeth Biggs~~ (2) Elizabeth
3. FOSTER, Robert. born ca 1688 Gloucester Co. VA; died ca 1745 in ~~Amelia~~ ESSEX Co. VA; no children
3. FOSTER, James. born ca 1690 Gloucester Co. VA; died ca 1749 Amelia Co. VA
— 3. FOSTER, John. born ca 1692 Gloucester Co. VA; died after 1760; married 1713 Isabel in Essex Co. She died after 1744
~~4. FOSTER, John. born ca 1719 in Essex Co. VA; married Ann Garnett (and from who we descended)~~
4. FOSTER, George. born ca 1714 Essex Co. VA
4. FOSTER, Thomas. born ca 1716 Essex Co. VA; married Ann Garnett (~~from whom we descended~~)
4. FOSTER, John. born ca 1719 Essex Co. VA; died ca 1764; married Averilla Haskew or ASKEW
4. FOSTER, Philadelphia. born ca 1721 Spotsylvania Co. VA; married John Snell
4. FOSTER, Ambrose. born ca 1725 Spotsylvania Co. VA
— 4. FOSTER, Anthony. born ca 1727 Spotsylvania Co. VA died ca 1805; married 2nd Sarah Golding 1st ___ TINSLEY
3. FOSTER, Barbara. born ca 1694 Essex Co. VA; died after 1763; married Richard Loving
3. FOSTER, Richard. born ca 1696 Essex Co. VA; died ca 1783 Louisa Co. VA
3. FOSTER, George. born ca 1698 Essex Co. VA; died ca 1789 Charlotte Co. VA
3 FOSTER, Thomas. born ca 1700 Essex Co. VA; married Elizabeth
3. FOSTER, William. born can 1792 Essex Co. VA; died ca 1767 Amelia Co. VA
3. FOSTER, Anthony.(from whom we did not descent) born ca 1794; died ca 1763 Spotsylvania Co. VA; married (1) Martha Taliaferro (2) Sarah Sparks - widow

Family Reunion

It is not two early to start thinking about the 6th FOSTER FAMILY REUNION in Texas. It will be held the second week-end in October in Canton (Van Zandt Co.) Texas. We always have a great time so start thinking about your plans. Doris Burns of Canton is the chairperson of our reunion this year.

William Cox

1766-1814, Augusta, Botetourt & Montgomery Co VA, Wayne Co KY

William Cox was born about 1734 probably in Prince George's Co MD, son of Allen Cocks. William died 1814-1815 Wayne Co KY and is listed in deed with wife Jean in 1771. William Cox is the first of this Family located in what became Botetourt; he purchased 166 acres near the spring on Glade Creek from David Bryan before 1766 in what was then Augusta Co VA that was located not far from the Great Road that passed through Botetourt. Today the property would be located in northeast City of Roanoke, VA. On 19 August 1771 William & wife Jean deeded 166 acres located near the spring on Glade Creek to John Bowman for £100.[1]

Since he was the only William Cox in Botetourt Parish I believe this is William Cox who signed by his mark on 28 Jul 1780 for the marriage bond of "fifty pounds" for John Cox in Botetourt Parish.[2]

William Cox is listed in Captain Looney's Co of the 45th District of Botetourt on 31 Aug 1782.[3] William Cox is listed as a Virginia Taxpayer in Botetourt Co VA Personal Property Tax 1784-1801 and is listed 1803-1809 in Montgomery Co VA Personal Property Tax District of John Hoge first near John Cox and then next to David Cox and Rebecca Cox. [4]

He is most likely William Cox surety 22 Oct 1808 Montgomery County with David Cox for the marriage of James Snodgrass and Rachel Cox, daughter of John Cox deceased.[5]

William Cox is not listed in 1810 Botetourt or Montgomery Census or Tax and I believe he is William listed in 1810[6] Wayne Co KY south of Cumberland River on Meadow Creek. William had been located near the Robert McGee Family in Virginia that moved and is listed 25 May 1804 Wayne Co KY Tax. William is listed next to John McGee in 1810 Wayne Census as William Cocks, he and 1 female over age 45 (born before 1765) with 2 males age 16-25 (born 1785-1794) near George Cocks age 16-25, David Cocks age 26-44 and Rebecca Cocks. Due to their ages it seems unlikely that William and wife were parents but rather these were Allen and William S. sons of John and Rebecca who were listed later next to William in Tax. William Cox is listed Wayne Co KY Taxable Property[7] in 1810 with no property next to Allen Cox who owned 100 acres south of the Cumberland River. He is also listed near George Cox without property next to David Cox who owned 100 acres on Meadow Creek next to Rebekah Cox who owned 57 acres Meadow Creek. William is listed in 1811 near Allen and listed as William Sr. in 1813 and 1814 next to William S. William Sr. may have died 1814-1815 as he is not listed later in Wayne County; he would have been almost 80 years of age.

George Clear/Clair/Clare

1738-1800, Botetourt County VA, Pulaski County KY

George Clare Clair/Clear born 1738, died Apr 1790 married Mary (Polly) Cox born about 1739, died 1785-1786 Botetourt Co VA. George, Jacob and John Clare may have been sons of Henry Clare mariner of St. Dunstan's Stepney Parish of Middlesex County (Virginia) who was given power of attorney by Adam Smith 16 December 1719 to handle sale of plantation of William Smith in Prince George's County Maryland.[1]

George Clear is listed in 1774 Berkeley County Virginia Census on Opequon Creek near Allen Cox.[2] He located in Botetourt on Glade Creek and witnessed Allen Cox's purchase of property along with Jacob Smith in 1782. George and Polly Clare had: i. Thomas born about 1772, died about 1841. ii. John born about 1774, died before 1822. iii. Mary born 1775, died after 1850. iv. Margaret born 1776, died 1857. v. Francis (Frank) born 1779, died 1816. vi. Allen born 1783, died 1845. vii. George Jr. born 1784, died 1874.

After Polly's death George married 10 Jul 1787 Susanna daughter of Johannes Kessler (Feb 1728-24 Mar 1823) and Eva Dorothy Lehman (24 Feb 1734-24 Jul 1838). George and Susanna had: viii. Jacob born 1788. ix. Daniel born 1790, died 1843. George Clair is listed as taxed for 9 persons in 1785[3] Botetourt Enumeration and taxed for 83 acres in Captain May's Co 1781-1786.[4] George Clear is listed 1786-1790 Botetourt Land Tax [5] District of Hugh Allen with 83 acres that are listed under Susannah Clear 1792-1796 and then under George Clear deceased 1797-1801. According to a court case in Botetourt County 10 Aug 1809 George had purchased right to 380 acres of 1000 acres in common with several other persons and after George's death the patent was issued in name of Thomas, eldest son of George and carried under Thomas' name even though Thomas had moved to Pulaski Co KY. Susanna's father John Kessler included Clear's property into his own survey in order for the Clare descendents to sell the property 1813 and 1822. [6]

A fter George died, Susanna granted permission for her stepdaughters to marry her brothers: Mary Clare to Christian Kessler 26 Oct 1793 and Margaret Clare to Benjamin Kessler 19 Nov 1795. Susanna's oldest stepson, Thomas Clare paid bond for Sarah (Sally) Cox, daughter of Allen Cox Sr. to marry Susanna's brother David Kessler 14 Apr 1792. Sons of George Clear: Thomas, Allen, Daniel and Francis Clare moved to Pulaski Co KY north of the Cumberland River along with their cousins Allen, Ezekiel, Isaac and Jacob Cox sons of Allen Cox Sr.

Elias Cox: Migration from Virginia to Kentucky

1805 - 1829, Botetourt Virginia, Wayne & Pulaski Kentucky

Elias, AKA Elyas and Elisha is first listed in 1805 as Elisha Cox with 1 stud horse & 1 cow in 1805 Botetourt Personal Property Tax. [1] Elias Cox witnessed deeds for John and Rebecca Cox with George Cox & David Cox on 28 Aug 1805 and with Jacob Smith on 10 Dec 1805.[2] Elias Cox is listed with 2 horses in 1809 Botetourt District of William Walker along with George Cox near Elias' father-in-law Cain Scanland Scantlin. He is found as Elias Jr. (age 26-44, born 1776-1784) in 1810 [3] Montgomery County VA on North Fork of Roanoke River near Ezekiel Cox & Jacob Cox in an area annexed from Botetourt County in 1790, that is today north of Roanoke, Virginia. Elias Sr. is listed the same age as Jr. in an area distant from Jr. Sr. does not appear in any Tax records of Montgomery or Botetourt and it is unlikely that they were father and son. George named his sons after his brothers, the oldest son Elisha later referred to as Elija, his 2nd son David indicating that George, David and Elias were brothers, sons of John and Rebecca Cox.

Elias (Elyas) Cox married Prudence Scantlin/Scanland 15 March 1808 [4] Botetourt County Virginia and listed in the Marriage Return of Rev. Jno Helms who also married Prudence's sister Elizabeth. Elias moved to Kentucky about the same time as Ezekiel and is found in Pulaski County Tax Books[5] in 1811 and 1812 and then in Wayne County Tax Books[6] 1813-1816 next to David Cox on Cedar Sinking Creek & near George Cox. The area in which Elias is found through 1816 south of Cumberland River and west of South Fork of Cumberland had been Wayne County but became Pulaski County in 1817 and put Elias back into Pulaski.

Elias is listed in Pulaski County Tax in 1818 with 50 acres on South Fork of Cumberland and in 1819 with 51 acres. He is listed in Pulaski County Tax 1820-1828 with 100 acres South Fork Cumberland River and 2 horses. He died 1828-1829, about age 44 and the 100 acres are listed under Prudence's name in 1829. An ACT for the benefit of the widow and heirs of Elias Cox, deceased Chap. CCCLXIII[7] was approved January 29, 1830 by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. The Patent issued to the heirs in 1830 listed his children when the property was sold 2 September 1848.[8]

DNA testing with Family Tree of a descendent of Elias has shown him to be Haplogroup I I of Scandinavian ancestry and is listed in the DNA Cox Study. Ezekiel has been shown to be a probable 2nd cousin. Other DNA samples of male descendents with the name Cox are needed from George and David to vouch for this relationship.

GRAMMER CEMETERY

Location: T27N, R25W., Section 28; or, ca. 2 mi. NE of Marionville, Mo. Sets back in a field about ¼ mi. on private land. Cemetery is fenced but not maintained. It is becoming quite overgrown, partially covered with some type of bush which we were unable to penetrate. We found the stones for Peterson and Martha Grammer back under the edge of these bushes, both of which were down and partially covered with soil.

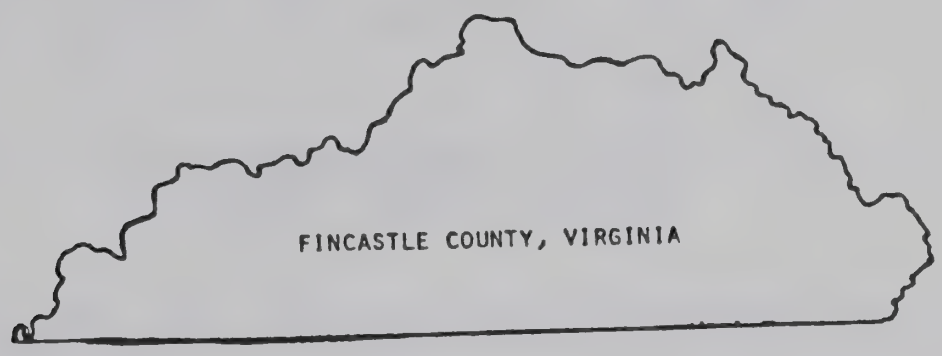
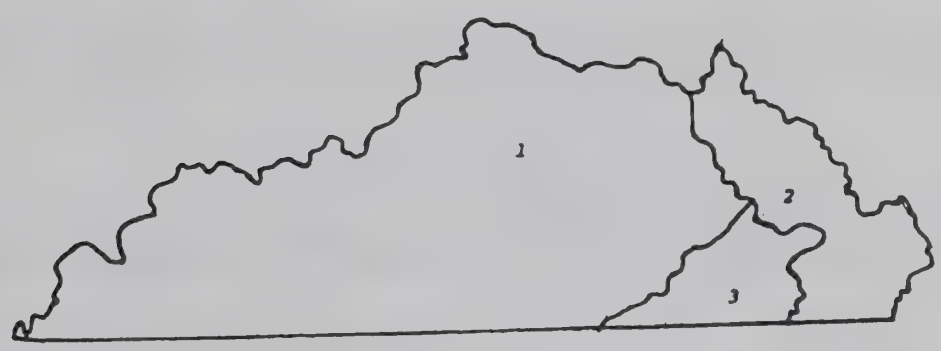
INTRODUCTION

All of Kentucky was at one time a part of Virginia.

On December 1, 1772, there was officially established Fincastle County, Virginia. This included all of what is now the present state of Kentucky, and a small southwest portion of what is today still Virginia.



On December 31, 1776, this was divided into three counties:



1. Kentucky County, Virginia
2. Montgomery County, Virginia
3. Washington County, Virginia

[Kentucky County comprised all of what is now present-day Kentucky.]

On November 1, 1780, Kentucky County was divided into three counties:

1. Jefferson County, Virginia
2. Fayette County, Virginia
3. Lincoln County, Virginia

By the time that Kentucky acquired separate status as a state, the area of what is now Kentucky was divided into eight distinct counties:

1. Mercer County
2. Jefferson County
3. Woodford County
4. Bourbon County
5. Mason County
6. Nelson County
7. Lincoln County
8. Fayette County

These were at first Virginia counties. The first sessions of court were held in a cabin in the stockade at Lexington in late 1781. In 1782 a two-story log courthouse was built at the corner of Main and Main Cross (Broadway) Streets. This had two rooms on each floor with a fireplace at each end, a prison, and the clerk's office. This building was later used by William MacBean as a dry goods store. In 1788 a second courthouse, two-stories, p.479, On the motion of HENRY WILSON by his attorney, against JOHN ALLISON, to obtain a judgment on his replevin bond, and it appearing that Allison had legal notice of this motion, it is considered by the Court that Wilson recover 40 pounds and costs, to be discharged bu the payment of 5 pounds, and 1,517 pounds of tobacco, and 50 shillings, with interest of 5% from August 1, 1785.

p.480, ROBERT SHANKLIN, v. GEORGE CLARE, upon a caveat for 1400 acres of land in Jefferson County. Defendant did not appear. p.481, VAN SWEARINGEN, v. HENRY HIGGINS, upon a caveat for 1,000 acres of land in Lincoln County. It seeming to the Court that the plaintiff ought to have entered his preemption on the south and west, the whole length of his south and west side lines, and to have run south and west from said lines on equal distances to include his quantity, and that the plaintiff recover against the defendant all the lands comprehended within the bounds aforesaid, but because the quantity thereof is not ascertained, it is ordered that the Surveyor of Lincoln County lay off the same agreeable to determination of the Court and make return thereof.
